WALLINGFORD.

Mrs. Henry Biggins died Saturday afternoon at the home of her son, H. E. Biggins, on Ivy street, aged eightythree years. The funeral will occur at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Rev. J. E. Wildman will officiate. The burial will be in the Center street cemetery.

Constable George J. White made his first arrest Saturday, the victim being Napoleon Paranteau, who was charged with stealing $11 from his roommate Joseph Charannan. The accused was brought before Judge Hubbard, and as the evidence was not sufficient to convict the prisoner was discharged, Water Commissioner Hallenbeck was over to Paugh pond on Saturday and restream of water running through the canal into the pond five feet wide and fourteen inches deep. The gauge in the gatehouse showed sixty-one inches, which is a gain of two Inches in three days. Everybody is con vinced that the money expended on the canal was a good investment.

Saturday morning's storm made wei traveling about the streets, especially on the plains, and but for the good work done by the sewers there would have been troublesome times in some vicinities. On the sidewalks on Hall avenue, west of Cherry street, was as usual

E. J. Hassan at his home at Silver Sanda, East Haven, is at present preparing several entertainments which will soon be produced in and near New Heven. His own play, "Rock of Ages," is now in rehearsal, and will be produced at the Hyperion theater some time in February. Many of his pupils will appear in the cast, which will be strong. He is also preparing for the production of the "Colleen Bawn" to be given for the benefit of the St. Francis church, Fair Haven, next April by the same cast who so successfully produced "Robert Emmet" last November.

A question of etiquette:"Who has the right of way into or out of a public -the person who opens the doo or himself, or from one to a dozen o more people who may be headed toward the door from the opposite side?" It might depend on what door it was; if he people wanted to get off a railroad car the right would probably be given them before those about to enter the irrespective of the opening of

Mr. Forest Smith has just completed w barns and stables, which for comfort and convenience go ahead of any thing in the shape of barns anywhere around. S. F. Linsley was the builder. The arrangements for feeding and watering are thought to be about perfect. One barn 40x80 feet, one 40x60 and one 20x40, with a wing over me 14x30. The first story of the wing is a feed room. The stables are under all he barns, but not underground. There is room for seventy cows and thirteen The feeding arrangement is omplete and convenient, there being 200 feet of the "Coburn Trolley Track, with a car large enough to hold feed for one feeding running along the whole length of the mangers and in front of them, so that a man can feed the cows nearly as fast as he can walk, the grain being mixed in the feed room and thrown into a hopper and drawn out through a shute into the car below The water comes from a large spring some half a mile distant, having a fall of some sixty feet and running into the stables. The state board of health examiners dropped down on Mr. Smith one morning last week like an earle on its prey, with all their instruments, and with coats off commenced work in earnest, spending al ay in examining the health of th ows, the result being a clean bill of ealth by the president of the board for all the cows examined. The cer-tificate can be seen by anyone who dedres by calling upon Mr. Smith. In all, Mr. Smith has 103 cows, being most

y Holsteins and Jerseys. Next week Wednesday is the time for the regular meeting of the W. C. T. U and a full attendance is requested More than enough clothing has been given for the proposed barrel for a destitute family and there is talk of filling a second barrel. Many thanks r their generous response to the call. Miss Harriet Burnham of West Ches er, Conn., is spending the winter with Mrs. C. N. Turner.

Mrs. James Divine spent last Sunday New Haven with Mrs. Harvey Ostrander, who was the wife of he rother, who died last Thanksgiving day, when Mrs. Divine had invited him and Mrs. Ostrander to spend hanksgiving day with her and instead l letter came telling of his illness and ne died on the same day, making the day a sad one for all the friends. E. J. Clinton and son have all the work at their factory that they can do. Business has been booming since the first of January.

OBITUARY

Death of Mrs. Mary A. Clark of Wood-Mrs. Mary A. Clark of Woodbridge whose death occurred on Friday even ing of last week, was born on September 1, 1803, and was consequently more than ninety-one years and four months of age. She was the mother of Dwight N. Clark of Bethany, president of the

New Haven County Agricultural society, and was grandmother of Noyes D Clark, who graduated from Yale university recently, Mrs. Clark was an aunt of F. L. Newton of this city. The eceased, whose husband died about sixty years ago, was familiarly known as Mrs. Abby Clark. She died in the house in which she was born, although she had not always resided there. Possessed of a genial and merry disposition social company she was the life of the party. With an ample fund of amusing anecdotes, which she had a appy faculty of relating, her presence was ever much enjoyed and appreciated in social circles. As a hostess and cheerful entertainer she had few if any equals. She was of an exceedingly liberal and generous nature, as can be atested by many persons who have been assisted by her and partaken of her bounty which she rendered with marked cheerfulness. She not only lived to a remarkable age, but she was a remarkable woman whose good deeds will live indefinitely, suggesting the fol-
